at the 17th International Architecture Exhibition at La Biennale di Venezia

Therme Group is proud to announce its support of the Italian Pavilion at the 17th International Architecture Exhibition in Venice. Curated by Alessandro Melis, the exhibition Resilient Communities is a timely statement on the transformative potential of architecture in our contemporary world, offering clear synergies with Therme Group's aim of creating environments that foster human and environmental wellbeing.

Therme Art is a cultural initiative founded in 2017 to put culture and sustainability at the heart of Therme Group's urban development strategy. Through its support of innovative projects and perspectives like Resilient Communities, Therme Art provides the framework and resources to enable creative minds to set new milestones in the evolution of our built environments across cultural, social and environmental dimensions.

About Therme Art

Therme Art works with internationally renowned artists and architects, as well as emerging talents, to commission and develop site-specific artistic projects that challenge the limitations of conventional exhibition spaces and redefine contemporary art viewing. Therme Art provides the resources and means required to fulfil artists' visions which cannot be realised in galleries or museums, regardless of their complexity, production, installation, and long-term maintenance. Therme Art's artists challenge the limitations of conventional art spaces, whether it be playing with the architectural elements of an environment, developing entire ecosystems, or creating immersive installations that transform visitors' experiences.

Therme Art has supported the Serpentine Pavilions, the Frieze Art & Architecture Conference, the British Pavilion at La Biennale di Venezia, and Design Miami. Its art and talks programmes have featured artists including Francis Kéré, Sumayya Vally, Junya Ishigami, Frida Escobedo, teamLab, Arthur Mamou-Mani, DRIFT, and Jeppe Hein.
